

The controller of `isVisible` is the cell itself. The reason is that the cell has a reference within itself to the players that have vision of that cell.

The `player` parameter is a reference to a player that the system is asking about.